

SCI nurse.org

International Network of Spinal Cord Injury Nurses

Issue #1
April 2014

Officially launched
at the International Spinal Cord Society (ISCoS) Annual Conference, Istanbul, Turkey

The International Network of Spinal Cord Injury Nurses was officially launched at the 52nd International Spinal Cord Society (ISCoS) Annual Conference, Istanbul, Turkey, in October 2013. We were delighted with the interest shown by so many SCI health care professionals from all over the World, who were keen to take information back to their colleagues.

Why join? The aim of the SCI Nurse Network is to link Registered Nurses with each other globally, share good practice, signpost to useful nursing educational resources, and provide a forum for the inquiring mind. The ultimate goal is to enable and empower nurses globally to provide a high standard of holistic care, working as part of the multi-disciplinary team in integrating men, women and children safely back into their community following a spinal cord injury

*Join us!
International SCI Nurse
Conference
1st September 2014*

Maastricht, The Netherlands.
Main event:
1st September
MECC Maastricht
Forum 100
6229 GV Maastricht

We are an integral part of the multi-disciplinary team working with people who have sustained a spinal cord injury - It is only with a multi-disciplinary approach that provision of holistic care can be achieved ...

Call for abstracts!

Help us make the first International SCI Nurse

Conference one to remember!

Share your knowledge, skills, innovations, initiatives, research globally with your SCI Nurse colleagues.

Submit via the www.scinurse.org website

300 Word limit.

Deadline 1st May 2014.

Further information:

*[http://www.iscosmeetings.org/scientific-programme/
pre-conference-workshops/](http://www.iscosmeetings.org/scientific-programme/pre-conference-workshops/)*

Conference planning:
International SCI Nursing
Bladder Management
Research & Development
Sexuality
Patient Education
Tele-Health
E-learning
SCInurse.org
Autonomic Dysreflexia
And more!

SCI NURSES; Networking and sharing education resources relating to Spinal Cord Injury
(SCI) globally

Join us! It's FREE! We would love to hear from you!

Check out the SCI resources in various languages, e-learning, and global contacts available on the website www.scinurse.org

Like us on: facebook.com/scinurse.org
Follow us on Twitter: sci_nurse

Best practice can only be achieved with education and knowledge sharing; We are never too old to learn! Sharing our knowledge and skills can help in providing high standards of holistic care to our client group of men, women, boys and girls, assisting them to achieve maximum health and adaptation following a spinal cord injury.

Supporting Healthcare Information For All www.hifa2015.org

Global SCI Nurse Members include:

Nigeria, Kenya, USA, Canada, UK,
The Netherlands, Haiti, Denmark,
Switzerland, South Africa, Australia,
Germany, Argentina, New Zealand

The ISCoS Education Committee are keen to know about Past, Present and Future SCI Workshops happening around the globe: Please help us to assist them in this important quest.

Tell us about your SCI Workshops email; info@scinurse.org

Join the International Network of SCI Nurses - share your knowledge and skills - find SCI resources - contribute to the Newsletter - link with like-minded nurses globally

Please support your International Network!
Join us - it is free!
Visit: www.scinurse.org